

BAXTER BARN

LOCAL AND FAMILY OWNED SINCE 1875

Hello!

I'm Cory, and my wife Missy and I are the proud owners of Baxter Barn. We live with our children on our beautiful 2.5 acre farm in Fall City. With help from the whole family, we lovingly raise a variety of animals including chickens, horses, rabbits, pheasant and mini-donkeys.

Over the last year, working with the King Conservation and King County, we have restored the land to a "clean farm" through true conservation methods. Baxter Barn is now listed on Washington State's Heritage Barn register.

Our mission is to demonstrate sustainability and conservation on a historical farm where domesticated plants and animals are as important as native plants and wildlife.

We hope you enjoy our high-quality products as much as we enjoy supplying them.

Thank you for your support,

Cory Huskinson

ABOUT BAXTER BARN NATURAL CHICKEN FEED

A PORTAGE BAY GRANGE BLEND

Our feed is a complete feed that is designed to fulfill the diverse requirements of many different kinds of small urban or large rural poultry. It contains pro-biotics and pre-biotics with a complete nutritional diet of organic vitamins and organic/inorganic trace minerals.

Current feed on the market only fulfills the minimum requirements of nutrition. Our feed goes far beyond that, using all available resources. We are one of the few feed producers to use a fixed formulation so the amount of each ingredient doesn't vary, providing a consistent product for optimum chicken health.

The average feed is 16% protein. Baxter Barn Feed contains 17% protein. From age 6 months to one year, chickens need 17% protein to grow and lay at the ideal rate. That simple 1% difference helps your chickens fight stress during changes in temperature, humidity, or adding or losing a bird in the flock. That extra 1% also helps maintain a healthier bird throughout its lifetime and can increase egg production by up to 20%.

FEEDING TIPS

- Chickens should always have access to clean, fresh water.
- For a nutritious treat, add meal worms to our PBG Custom Scratch. Remember, only use treats in moderation.
- Supply chickens with grit to help them break down the feed for maximum absorption.

No medications, No Hormones, No Antibiotics,
No Stimulants, No Animal Fat and No Animal By-Products

WHAT MAKES OUR FEED SO UNIQUE?

OUR FEED GOES BEYOND THE AVERAGE NUTRITIONAL REQUIREMENTS AND CONTAINS THE FOLLOWING:

- 17% protein, more than most commercial chicken feeds
- Essential oils such as oregano to help the immune system and keep the feed fresh
- Fortified for optimum vitamin nutrition
- A variety of enzymes to help digest fiber and better digest the feed
- A MOS product to help improve gut function and immune response
- A toxin binder to combat myco-toxins that are often present in other feeds
- Chelated trace minerals to help absorption of nutrients
- Selenium, in the form of Selenium Yeast which is more readily utilized by the animal
